Three Types of Sponsorship Packages:

■ ENTERPRISE SPONSORS

Designed for companies that have multiple divisions or a plan to support customers and partners, regardless of the geographical boundaries. Brand identification and loyalty are emphasized in a one-year program.

■ PREMIER SPONSORS

Designed for organizations that have a focused area of interest. Company specific content as well as industry support for such groups as aerospace, IT, biotech, cyber security, energy, emarketing, elearning, etc., are target areas.

■ SIGNATURE SPONSORS

Designed for organizations that have diverse interests and want to tailor a program that supports current marketing efforts. Campaigns for product launches, "pre" & "post" event marketing and expansion are w3w3[®] specialties.

Rather than annoy our visitors and disappoint our sponsors, w3w3[®] doesn't host banner ads and doesn't play commercials during interviews. As a result, we have a very tight but powerful sponsorship program. In addition, w3w3[®] offers in-kind sponsorship with other publications and non-profit associations.

■ Organizations partner with w3w3[®] for many more reasons. In addition to the traditional concerns many simply want to get their message out "above all the noise". Others need the power of Internet radio to deliver their message, 24/7. They all want others to know how much they support the technology community.
